Paragraph 0050 line 2 "by" should be --be--.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1,2 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a,e) as being anticipated by Auracher '439.

Auracher shows in figure 1a a submount comprising a substrate 2 of silicon, a lens 5 above the substrate, and a laser 1 above the substrate. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected. In regard to claim 7, detector 6 is an active integrated circuit.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Mueller-Fiedler '142.

Art Unit: 2815

Mueller shows a substrate T1 of silicon, a lens Li above the substrate, and a laser LD above the substrate. Claims 1 and 2 are anticipated. Claim 3 is rejected as Mueller teaches a "lens can advantageously be a Fresnel lens, fitted in a planar manner", and also teaches "conductor tracks Lb to make contact with the laser diode LD and for further optical or optoelectronic components which are mounted in the upper side of the carrier T1". Note also conductor tracks for devices MD' and PD above T2. Claim 4 is obvious as T2 over the lens can be glass (column 2 lines 45-51). Claim 5 is rejected as the laser diode is electrically connected to the monitor diode MD' which is electrically connected to a pad on T2. These electrical connections are inherent or at least obvious as MD' monitors the LD. See figure 1a. Claim 6 is rejected as figure 2 shows a sealing layer above T2 and surrounding contact pads and the laser. Claim 7 is rejected as the monitor diode is an active integrated circuit. The present claims are broad enough to read on the prior art structures.
